CVRP Application Process

- 1 Be an eligible applicant and purchase or lease an eligible vehicle
- 2 Apply and submit your documents online at CleanVehicleRebate.org
- 3 Your application and documents will be reviewed and processed
- 4 You receive your CVRP rebate check in the mail

Although CVRP accepts applications up to 3 months after purchase or lease, we encourage applicants to apply upon taking delivery of the vehicle.

Electric cars offer cheaper fueling, less maintenance, zero emissions and money back.

Standard Rebate

- $4,500 for Fuel Cell Electric Vehicle (FCEV)
- $2,000 for Battery Electric Vehicle (BEV)
- $1,000 for Plug-In Hybrid Electric Vehicle (PHEV)
- $750 for Zero-Emission Motorcycle (ZEM)

Increased Rebate

Consumers with household incomes less than or equal to 400% of the federal poverty level are eligible for an additional $2,500.

- $7,000 for FCEVs
- $4,500 for BEVs
- $3,500 for PHEVs
- $750 for ZEMs

Income Eligibility

Californians are ineligible for a rebate if their gross annual income exceeds certain thresholds. These income caps do not apply to FCEVs.

- $150,000 for single filers
- $204,000 for head-of-household filers
- $300,000 for joint filers

Other Benefits

Tax Credit

A federal tax credit up to $7,500 is available on the purchase of new electric vehicles. The amount varies based on the vehicle's battery size and your ability to apply the credit.

- When a manufacturer's sales exceed 200,000 qualifying vehicles, the tax credit phases out
- Consult a tax professional for detailed information

HOV Lane Access

Vehicles that meet specified emissions standards are eligible for a clean air vehicle decal that allows a single-occupant car to use California's HOV lanes.

- Decals are valid for up to four years
- Contact CA Department of Motor Vehicles for details at DMV.ca.gov

Regional Incentives

Based on where you live, other incentives may be available to reduce your vehicle purchase price and ongoing charging costs.

- Use the online Savings Calculator at CleanVehicleRebate.org/Incentives

Utility Incentives

Many California utilities offer incentives for their customers, such as vehicle and charging station rebates and special rate plans for EV charging.

- Contact your utility provider to find out more
